McCarthy Asks TV, Radio Time to Reply to Demos

Stevenson, Mitchell
Lead Party Attacks
Against Eisenhower

By LYLE C. WILSON
United Press Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON (U.P.) — Another week of crackling political developments begins today with Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy's attack on President Eisenhower and the Republican Party against Democratic attacks.

The Wisconsin Republican wants free radio and television time to reply to a speech delivered Saturday night by Adlai E. Stevenson to a $100-a-plate dinner audience in Miami, Fla.

Stevenson directly assailed Mr. Eisenhower on the issue of "McCarthyism," implying that the President was appeasing McCarthy against his own beliefs and principles in strategy designed to win the 1954 congressional elections for the Republican Party.

This speech was cut by Democratic National Committee Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell's strategy of an all-out Democratic attack on the President. As the southern rally was gathering in Miami, Mitchell said:

"It is now time to make President Eisenhower our target. Says Stevenson is responsible. Stevenson said McCarthy had made demagoguery and deceit a national movement, that Mr. Eisenhower sheltered it for political purposes. Although McCarthy was often and caustically mentioned, Stevenson's basic target was Mr. Eisenhower on grounds that he was responsible for the Republican Party, and all in it.

Hall Demands Free Time for GOP to Answer Stevenson

WASHINGTON (U.P.) — Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall today asked for free radio and television time for a "designated spokesman" of the GOP to answer Adlai E. Stevenson's charge that President Eisenhower has embraced "McCarthyism."

Hall's move apparently would head off an earlier demand by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) that networks give him air time to reply to the speech which Stevenson, 1952 Democratic presidential candidate, made from Miami Saturday night.

He would demand free radio and television time next Saturday night in which to answer Stevenson. CBS television and NBC broadcast the Stevenson speech free on a public service.

Network representatives did not immediately reveal whether McCarthy would get the time. Last autumn he was given free time to answer former President Truman who, in turn, had free time to answer charges that he was responsible for promoting a known Communist government officer.

Mitchell welcomed the idea of free time for McCarthy on grounds that it would be good for the Democrats if the senator could be on the air and television an hour every day.

"Now we will see," Mitchell said, "whether McCarthy controls the Federal Communications Commission and the broadcasting companies. But don't get me wrong. I'm all in favor of it."

The chairman was optimistic after the Miami rally. He predicted his party would regain control of Congress next November. He said he knew the split in the Democratic Party was healing nicely because "haven't been cussed out in quite a while."

The next big Democratic show will be a May 5-6 Jefferson-Jackson Day observance here with Stevenson again the principal speaker, Mitchell said. He denied knowledge of Stevenson's future political plans, whether he will again be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination, for example.

Direct Fire at Head Men

Mitchell's comments and Stevenson's speech did considerably more than set up a new starting vehicle for McCarthy. They have exposed a campaign of direct attack on President Eisenhower. His very considerable personal popularity has caused some Democrats to feel that it would be better politics to shoot only at the Republican Party and policies and at other individuals in this campaign. Some Democrats doubtless will hold to that, but Stevenson and Mitchell and their most loyal followers now are expected to direct their fire at the Republican head men.

Much of Mitchell's speech was in adverse criticism of Mr. Eisenhower's "new look" in national defense and in question of Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' new policy of "instant retaliation" if the Russians set new brush fires.

Assessors to Begin Work in County April 1

All real estate and personal property in Saline county will be reassessed this year, with assessors beginning work April 1, County Treasurer Paul Hilliard announced today.

Real estate normally is reappraised every four years, but this has been moved up a year by the Illinois State Legislature.

Don B. Garrison, county clerk, said the move came in order to put counties with a commission type of government in the same year as counties with a board of supervisors. Commission-form counties had been assessing real estate every four years, but the assessments were coming one year before those counties with supervisors.

The last real estate assessment made in Saline county was three years ago, in 1951.

This year's assessments will be carried out by township assessors, who are:

Harrisburg, Clyde Hess; Mount Pleasant, Charles Barrett; Stonefort, Clyde Murphy; Rector, Elsie Craig; Raleigh, Granville McConnell; Eldorado, Sol Green; Carrier Mills, George W. Henson; Galesburg, Roy Limerick; Cottage, Lowell Wise; Independence, William Perkins; Brushy, Harold Allen; Long Branch, Lloyd Oglesby; Tate, Noah Anderson.

County Treasurer Hilliard said today that the annual assessors' meeting will be held at the court house March 18 starting at 9 a. m. Assessors are required by law to attend this meeting, where values for various types of personal property are determined for assessment purposes. Assessors also will receive their supplies at this meeting.

Communism is Slavery, Dulles Tells Guatemala

Asks Support of
U. S. Resolution for Latin America Action

CARACAS, Venezuela (U.P.) — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles today warned Latin American nations — and Guatemala in particular — against letting the "poisonous air" of Communist despotism turn freedom into slavery in the Western Hemisphere.

Dulles, addressing the 10th Inter-American Conference, spoke in support of a United States resolution for joint action by the American republics against the Communist menace.

He pointed out that Guatemalan Foreign Minister Guillermo Toriello, in opposing any anti-Communist action, had asked in his opening speech: "What is international communism?"

"I thought that by now every foreign minister of the world knew what international communism is," Dulles said.

"It is disturbing if the foreign affairs of one of our American republics are conducted by one so innocent that he has to ask that question."

Thus Dulles set the stage for a conference fight with Guatemala, which American spokesmen have called Communist influenced if not Communist dominated.

Despite the expected bitter Guatemalan opposition, Dulles is confident that his resolution will get an overwhelming majority when the showdown comes.

International communism, Dulles said, is a "far flung clandestine political organization" operated by Soviet Russia.

Since 1939, he said, it has brought 15 once-independent nations "into a state of abject servitude," through a hard core of agents operating throughout the world.

Under the Red program, he said, loyalty of satellite leaders to Russia "shall take precedence over every other obligation including love of country, obligation to family and the honor of one's own personal conduct."

Russia, he said, seeks to destroy all the "beacons" of freedom that have burned brightly in the Western Hemisphere.

"These beacons must not be stifled by the poisonous air of despotism now being fanned to our shores from Moscow, Prague and Budapest," Dulles said.

Roosevelt is Endorsed for Congress Race

LOS ANGELES (U.P.) — James Roosevelt, endorsed by the Democratic party as its candidate for Congress from the 26th District, began a campaign today to establish a political record he hopes will "obliterate the smears against me."

Roosevelt, 47-year old son of the late President Franklin Delano Roosevelt, won the nomination Sunday at a party caucus attended by 350 delegates and observers.

Roosevelt, accused by his wife, Romelle, of infidelities with 12 women, delivered a three-minute speech before the voting.

He won the endorsement on the second ballot. Although 11 candidates originally were in the running for the party's seal of approval, Roosevelt's only serious competition came from lawyer Jerry Pacht.

Pacht trailed Roosevelt by 12 votes on the first count and finally lost by 14 votes on the second ballot, when Roosevelt got one vote more than the 90 required for endorsement. The final tally was 91 for Roosevelt to 77 for Pacht.

Roosevelt told delegates, a few of them booing as he started to speak, that the attack on his personal life left him with only two choices.

"I could retire and let the charges stand to be used against me as evidence of guilt," he said, "or I could come before the people and get myself elected and make a record which would be an answer to the smears against me. For the sake of my children I want to obliterate the smears."

Eisenhower Asks Senate Leaders to Tone Down Billion Dollar Cut in Excise Taxes

By United Press

President Eisenhower today asked Senate Republican leaders the tough political task of toning down a one-billion-dollar excise tax relief bill the House is preparing to pass.

The bill is due for a House vote Wednesday and is virtually assured of passage there. It would cut federal excise sales taxes on admission tickets, telephone tolls, furs, jewelry and other "luxuries" to a flat 10 per cent. They now range from 15 to 25 per cent.

Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. (Mass.) said Mr. Eisenhower told GOP congressional leaders at a White House legislative conference that he feels the House bill goes "a little too far" and he wants the revenue loss trimmed.

Apparently convinced there was no hope of heading off such a popular measure in the House, where all members are up for reelection this year, Mr. Eisenhower asked Senate leaders to work for modification of the bill when it reaches that chamber.

Informed sources said Secretary of Treasury George M. Humphrey has suggested to Senate GOP leaders that the excise taxes on "luxuries" be cut to 15 per cent instead of 10 per cent. That would reduce the revenue loss by about half.

Other developments:

Unemployment: Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee that the 1955 fiscal year beginning July 1 probably will bring "a higher level of unemployment" than the current 1954 fiscal year. Unemployment during the current fiscal year has ranged from less than two million last summer to about 3,068,000 at latest report.

Mitchell apparently meant that next year's average will be higher than this year's average, and was not necessarily predicting a boost over the present figure.

Highways: The House moved toward expected passage of an administration-backed bill to increase federal contributions for highway building from 555 million dollars to 875 million dollars a year.

Hospitals: Speaker Martin forecast today a proposal for an administration bill authorizing federal aid to states and cities for construction of non-profit hospitals and nursing homes.

Labor: Smith also announced his committee is planning a broad inquiry into union welfare and retirement programs. In the House, the Labor Committee has introduced a bill to outlaw the union shop.

The committee is considering amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act.

The two nations also signed three economic agreements that will permit Japan to buy surplus American wheat with Japanese yen, sell home-manufactured supplies to other Asiatic nations in the Western camp and accept American investments in private Japanese industry.

The pact and the agreement will pump upwards of 100 million dollars into the Japanese economy.

In winning strategic and potential powerful Japan to the side of the West, the United States scored a major victory in its drive against the ambitions of Asiatic Communism.

U. S. Ambassador John Allison and Japanese Foreign Minister Katsuo Okazaki signed the agreement, and three related economic agreements.

The pact pledges U. S. aid for accelerated Japanese rearmament. Its aim is to make Japan capable of defending herself and to permit gradual withdrawal of U. S. forces based here under the 1952 security treaty.

In signing the pact Allison noted that "this agreement takes us one step nearer the goal of making the Japanese people will not need to rely on American forces for protection."

"It takes us one step nearer the time when the United States can withdraw its forces from Japan."

"The greatest contribution Japan can make to the security of the free world is to strengthen her own security and be in a position to assure her own people that they will be able to live and develop their own ideas and their own culture in their own way and not become subject to an alien dictatorship."

"A strong, free and enlightened Japan can contribute much to the peace and stability of Asia and the world."

No dollar price tag on U. S. arms aid and no time limit on it was attached to the agreement. Japan will decide how fast it wants to expand its defense forces, and submit annual requests to the United States for guns, ships, planes and other equipment.

The pact and accompanying agreements will be presented immediately to the Japanese Diet (parliament) for ratification as treaties. U. S. congressional ratification is not required as the agreements were negotiated under terms of the Mutual Security Act.

Grand Juries in Action in New York, Chicago

Top Nationalist Party Leaders are Held in Puerto Rico

NEW YORK (U.P.) — The government cracked down today on Puerto Rican terrorists.

Federal grand juries went into action in New York and Chicago. Numerous subpoenas were served in both cities. The grand jurors were probing into plot-hatching and terrorism by members of the Puerto Rican Nationalist Party.

Federal officials in Washington have made no denial of reports that last week's armed attack on the United States Congress was part of a broader plot to assassinate key executive and legislative leaders.

In Puerto Rico, police arrested three top Nationalist Party leaders, completing the roundup of the Nationalist high command. They also arrested six top Communists and were making an island-wide search for four others.

Issue Subpoenas

In Chicago, an assistant U. S. attorney said a grand jury had opened an inquiry into Nationalist Party activities. He said the decision to launch the federal jury investigations was made at a weekend conference in Washington.

Deputy marshals served 20 subpoenas early today in Chicago on persons allegedly connected with the party. Asst. U. S. Atty. Irwin Cohen said those subpoenaed included men rounded up by police last week shortly after fanatical Puerto Rican Nationalists had opened fire on the House of Representatives in Washington, wounding five congressmen.

In New York, FBI agents, working swiftly among the city's 500,000 Puerto Ricans, issued subpoenas for appearance before a federal grand jury later in the day.

Top Command in Custody

Thomas Lunnay, U. S. marshal for the southern district of New York, said his deputies worked with the FBI.

"Beginning at daybreak," he said, "at least 75 subpoenas were served in the New York area in connection with the investigation into the Puerto Rican situation."

Police in Puerto Rico now have in custody all of the top command of the small but terroristic Nationalist organization.

The Communists and Nationalists in Puerto Rico were being held under law 53, Puerto Rico's anti-subversion law which is patterned after the United States Smith Act, under which Red leaders were indicted and jailed.

Committees Named For Boy Scout Finance Campaign

Steering committees have been selected in each of the seven districts of the Egyptian Council of Boy Scouts to work out details for the Council's 1954 Finance campaign, it was announced today.

Dr. George H. Hand, general chairman of the drive soon to get underway, said the Steering committees would select campaign leaders and direct solicitation of funds in their districts. The council will seek to raise $169,599 for the Boy Scout camp at Little Grassy Lake and for the area-wide Scout budget for the coming year.

Steering committee representatives in the Sahara district are: Omar Hobbs and J. Ward Barnes of Eldorado; Fred Wasson of Carrier Mills; Tyler Govan of Ridgeville; Robert S. Davenport, Charles Rauh, Fred Wunderlich, Eugene Morris, all of Harrisburg.

James Gwaltney, Harrisburg, department officer in the American Legion of Illinois, has been named to head the Trail Blazer division of the Sahara district in the Scouts' Finance campaign.

Dale Sullivan, Harrisburg, associate chairman in the $169,599 fund raising effort, announced Gwaltney's appointment. The Sahara district includes Saline and Gallatin counties.

The Trail Blazer division will handle gifts received for the addition of facilities at the Boy Scout camp.

It Looks Pretty Silly From Where We Sit

The WASHINGTON MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

(Ed. Note — Drew Pearson today continues his report on the difficulties between Pres. Eisenhower and Sen. McCarthy.)

DREW PEARSON Says:
Newspaper Reaction Almost
Tipped White House Scales
Against McCarthy; Republican
National Chairman Still Runs
Interference For McCarthy;
Hall Sells Ike On Appeasement.

WASHINGTON. — Not since Dwight Eisenhower entered the White House has there been such pulling and hauling by opposing groups of advisers as over Joe McCarthy last week. The result was an original draft of a strongly worded anti-McCarthy statement which never saw the light of day; then the modified, gentle rebuke which was published.

The pro-McCarthy group inside the White House included General "Slick" Persons, the President's long-time military friend; Jack Martin, former assistant to Senator Taft; and Gerald Morgan, Vice President Nixon also lined up in favor of appeasing McCarthy.

This group has told the President that McCarthy isn't so bad, that the bad man in the McCarthy entourage is Roy Cohn; that senators are demanding that McCarthy get rid of him.

The anti-McCarthy group inside the White House includes Bob Cutler, the Boston banker; Max Rabb; Bernard Shanley, White House counsel; C. D. Jackson, publisher of Fortune Magazine; and Sherman Adams, chief assistant to the President. Jim Hagerty remains more or less neutral.

Though the anti-McCarthy group inside the White House has been stronger, two groups outside the White House also have carried great weight with the sometimes hesitating President.

One is the Republican National committee together with right-wing, isolationist senators who have been constantly warning Ike that Joe McCarthy is necessary for them to win an election. With him and the Communist issue, they argue, the GOP can capture the Irish Catholic vote and swing such key states as Illinois to the Republican column next November.

NEWSPAPER CRITICISM
The opposing McCarthy group outside the White House includes some of the most influential newspapers in the country, most of them pro-Eisenhower. They swung a tremendous bloc of independent votes for Ike in 1952, and their support or defection would probably spell the difference between a large bloc of independent votes today.

These papers include the New York Times, New York Herald Tribune, Washington Post, the Knight newspapers, and others, all having urged the President to take a strong stand and stop appeasing McCarthy.

Mr. Eisenhower, long sensitive to newspaper comment, has been frankly perturbed by this steady drumfire of editorial criticism from his hitherto staunch supporters. These were the papers McCarthy apparently referred to when he talked about left-wing publications which favored Fifth Amendment Communists. Yet they are among the most important in the nation, and it was quite understandable that Eisenhower should have been concerned.

It was newspaper reaction which finally convinced the President early last week to take a firm stand against McCarthy. And on Monday, two days in advance of his Wednesday press conference, he gave orders to have a strong statement prepared. Eisenhower usually starts the preparation for his press-conference statements about two days in advance, and in this case the statement was drafted under the supervision of Sherman Adams.

However, news of the impending announcement leaked. Reportedly it leaked through General Persons, "Ike is fighting mad," Persons told newsmen. "McCarthy has gone too far, and if he makes one more move, Ike will let him have it."

Hearing of this, McCarthy did what he has frequently done before — he ducked a showdown. On Tuesday night, one day before the much-publicized Eisenhower press conference, McCarthy issued a conciliatory statement of his own. There should be an end to the controversy over General Zwicker, he said, and suiting action to words, he postponed a scheduled hearing of more Army witnesses.

HALL'S SOFT SALESMANSHIP
This may have had some influence on President Eisenhower. What influenced him much more, however, was a call from Republican National Chairman Len Hall who had heard of the tough White House blast against McCarthy, and called to urge the President not to make it.

When he arrived at the White House, Hall had already received some hot complaints against McCarthy from key Republicans around the nation warning that it was time McCarthy was put in his place. McCarthy was all right in his place, McCarthy was all right in his place, McCarthy was all right in his place, McCarthy was all right in his place.

Nevertheless, Hall urged Eisenhower not to tackle McCarthy directly, but let Republican leaders and the Senate act instead. He emphasized the importance of party unity, the fact that only the Democrats would enjoy the battle, argued that he was sure he could get Joe to be reasonable.

And carrying out his idea that others, not the President, should tackle McCarthy, Chairman Hall issued an anti-McCarthy statement to the press as he left the White House.

The Republican national chairman is a shrewd salesman and he sold Ike. The tough statement drafted under the supervision of Sherman Adams was scrapped. The much softer statement was issued.

Significantly, McCarthy immediately leaped from his corner, threw conciliatory words to the winds, and cracked out one of the toughest statements he has ever made. In effect, he threw down a challenge to the President to stop him.

100 Oil Wells Are Below 15,000 Feet

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Only about 100 oil wells have ever been drilled below 15,000 feet, yet those wells cost a total of $60,000,000, according to a survey published by the Petroleum Engineer.

Six fields in the United States have production below 15,000 feet, the magazine said. Three times in 1953 the production depth record was broken—twice by Shell Oil Company and most recently by Richfield.

Twenty-five wells more than 15,000 feet deep were drilled in 1953 and they cost an average of more than $500,000 each. About half of all such super-deep wells are completed as producers, but most at levels above 15,000 feet.

California holds the world's record for deep drilling and deep production. Richfield's North Coles Levee "A," with oil sand at 17,895 feet, is the deepest producer.

The deep drilling record is held by Ohio Oil Company's Palermo well, now fishing at 21,482 feet.

Louisiana leads the 10 states having wells below 15,000 feet with 38 super-deep tests, 21 of which are producing. It has two deep producing fields, Cote Blanche and Weeks Island. Weeks Island field is the most important deep field in the world; it has nine wells producing from below 15,000 feet.

Texas is second in number of wells below 15,000 feet. Of its 29 deep wells, 11 were drilled last year, more than double any other state.

The only production in Texas below 15,000 feet is in the Packett field in Pecos county. Wyoming has four wells below

American oil companies are frantic over the sudden anti-American attitude of Saudi Arabia's new king, Saud Al Saud. He has fallen under the influence of bitterly anti-American advisers, and U. S. companies are worried that he will stop all American cooperation.

15,000 feet and one deep field in the West. Poison Spider field in Natrona county. Production was started by Pure Oil at 16,000 feet.

Six other states have wells below 15,000 feet, some producing from shallower sands. Oklahoma has six wells with two producers, Mississippi three with no producers, New Mexico two with two producers, and Alabama, Colorado and Florida each has one well deeper than 15,000 feet. Only Colorado's is a producer.

Foreign operators have drilled only four wells below 15,000 feet, all in Venezuela. Shell Oil drilled to 17,537 feet in 1953 to set the record for foreign drilling depths.

BIBLE THOUGHT FOR TODAY
Be ye holy for I am holy.—1 Pe. 1:16.

Christ taught His disciples to aim at perfection. Some fell far short, but Peter after touching the depth did really become a saint. We will not hit a mark higher than our aim, so we should aim at perfection.

NEW Ashland ETHYL WITH ICA

IGNITION CONTROL ADDITIVE

MAKES CARS FEEL YOUNG AGAIN!

ICA is a patented Ignition Control additive. ICA puts wasted horsepower back to work.

ICA controls ignition, thus eliminating the knocks and loss of power resulting from pre-ignition. ICA reduces fouling of spark plugs.

ICA is the result of years of laboratory work and more than 2,000,000 miles of severe road tests.

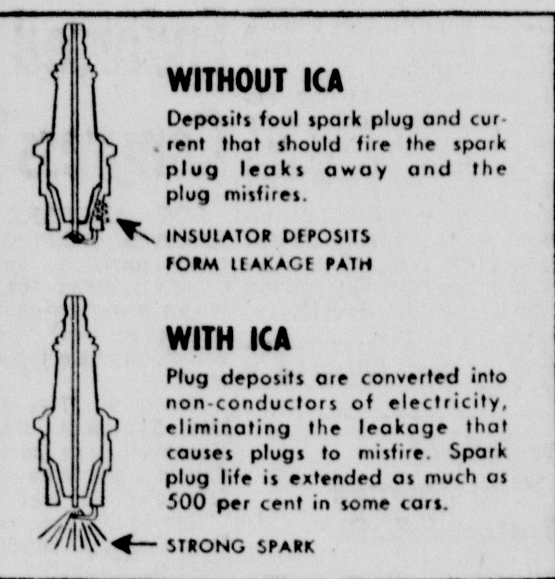

ICA tested best of over 200 chemical additives to control ignition in automobile engines.

... and Kept Best by Constant Test

Here is part of Ashland Oil's own "laboratory on wheels" ... a fleet of test cars used in this area to make sure your car will always get superior road performance from Ashland Ethyl with ICA.

Test-ride sensational new Ashland Ethyl with ICA in your own car and you'll feel the difference in one to three tanks full, depending on the condition of your car.

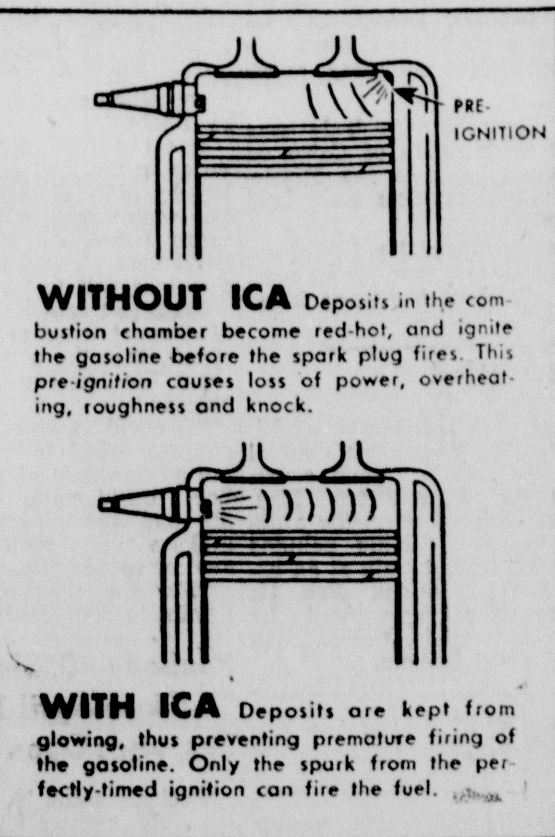

WITHOUT ICA

Deposits foul spark plug and current that should fire the spark plug leaks away and the plug misfires.

WITH ICA

Plug deposits are converted into non-conductors of electricity, eliminating the leakage that causes plugs to misfire. Spark plug life is extended as much as 500 per cent in some cars.

WITHOUT ICA Deposits in the combustion chamber become red-hot, and ignite the gasoline before the spark plug fires. This pre-ignition causes loss of power, overheating, roughness and knock.

WITH ICA Deposits are kept from glowing, thus preventing premature firing of the gasoline. Only the spark from the perfectly-timed ignition can fire the fuel.

Miss Shirley Ann Kaid, Henry Eugene Rister Wed in Candlelight Ceremony

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Eugene Rister

Before an altar attractively decorated with two large stands of white calla lilies and candelabra with 14 burning tapers Miss Shirley Ann Kaid, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kaid, Route 4, Harrisburg, became the bride of Henry Eugene Rister, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jess Rister, in a double ring ceremony.

The candlelight service took place in the Big Ridge Baptist church Thursday, Feb. 25, at 7 p. m. with the Rev. Clayton Humphrey officiating.

The bride, escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father, was gownned in a white tulle dress with a white tulle length dress fashioned with a bouffant tulle skirt with an overskirt of nylon net. The tight fitted bodice of nylon net and chantilly lace was covered with an elbow length lace bolero. Her fingertip veil of chantilly lace was secured to a bandeau of forget-me-nots. Around her neck she wore a cameo imported from Italy, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried on a white Bible a bouquet of red rose buds with red streamers. The bride carried out the old adage, "something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue."

The matron of honor, Mrs. Melba Lou Ramsey, cousin of the bride, was attired in a waltz length dress of aqua silk with white satin accessories and wore a corsage of pink carnations.

The candlelighters, Mrs. Margaret West, Eldorado, who wore a taffeta dress of pale blue, and Miss Emma Lou Potter, Harrisburg, who wore a dress of navy linen, also had corsages of pink carnations.

James Sanders, Harrisburg, served as best man, and Bob Parton, Carrier Mills, and Donald Nave, Eldorado, acted as ushers.

Mrs. Kaid chose for her daughter's wedding a linen dress of powder blue with navy accessories, and Mrs. Rister, mother of the bridegroom, was adorned in a black dress with gray accessories. Both women wore corsages of pink carnations.

Music for the wedding was furnished by Miss Janice Phelps who played at the piano "Because," "Always," "I Love You Truly," and the traditional "Wedding March."

The bridegroom is in the U. S. Army stationed at Fort Ord, Calif., and the bride is secretary to Dr. W. J. Blackard where she will continue to work. Both are graduates of the Harrisburg Township high school, he graduating in 1950 and she with the class of 1953.

The bride plans to live with her parents temporarily.

Report Huge New Communist Airfield In South China

HONG KONG (AP)—The Communists have built a huge new airfield in South China capable of handling the biggest known Soviet jet bombers, informed quarters said today.

The sources said the airfield was built at Fat Shan just outside Canton in a "surprisingly short time." Construction began last March and apparently was finished in November or December.

The sources said the airfield has a runway at least 7,500 feet long and can handle IL28 six-jet bombers, IL28 twin-jet bombers, plus smaller planes such as MIG15s and the TN4, Russian equivalent of the American B29.

The reports said the Communists already have based a number of jets at the base, only a few miles from the White Cloud airfield, previously considered China's best.

Workers Accept Fact Board Proposal In Newspaper Dispute

NEW YORK (AP)—Photo-engravers of six major New York newspapers have voted to accept a 3.75 weekly package increase recommended by a fact-finding panel.

The vote, taken Sunday at a union meeting, was 209-76.

Edward Volz, international president of the AFL photo-engravers union and Denis M. Burke, president of the union's Local No. 1, recommended the men accept.

The $3.75 weekly package increase was the same as the publishers offered before the 400 photo-engravers went on strike last Nov. 28, closing the six major dailies for 10 to 15 days each. Two other papers were closed for five days each.

It rains 317 days a year on the island of Evangelista, off the western coast of South America.

Not Afraid of Communists in U. S.: Truman

BOSTON (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman said today "there aren't an eye-full of Communists in the whole country and I'm not afraid of them."

Mr. Truman dropped his "non-political" role briefly at a press conference preceding a luncheon speech in connection with his campaign to raise 134 million dollars for a library to house his state papers.

"Some day I'll answer all the questions you want to ask," he told newsmen, "but I'm here for another purpose."

The 69-year-old former President steered clear of the "family fight" in the Republican Party over questioning of Brig. Gen. Ralph Zwicker by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.).

"I never pays for a man to get into a family fight. He usually unites the family against him," Mr. Truman said.

Praises Stevenson

He was asked to comment on a published report that Zwicker was acting under a directive Mr. Truman issued while President six years ago forbidding members of the executive branch from commenting except to the White House on matters of security.

"That was during the Korean unpleasantness and a necessary procedure," he said. However, he would not comment on whether the directive should continue in force "because I haven't got the information before me."

Mr. Truman praised Adlai Stevenson for his speech accusing President Eisenhower of yielding to "McCarthyism."

"He's the head of the party and I follow his lead," Mr. Truman said. He said "Of course, I will" when asked whether he would campaign for Stevenson if the latter again is a candidate for the presidency, adding, "if he wants me to."

FTC Accuses Casket Manufacturers' Ass'n of Price Fixing

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Trade Commission has accused the Casket Manufacturers' Association of America and 160 of its members of engaging in illegal price-fixing.

It issued a complaint charging the association and its members, among other things, with agreeing to expand the production of higher-priced caskets and curtail output of lower-priced caskets.

The complaint specifically cited 13 member manufacturers as representative of the entire association membership.

Members of the association, which has its headquarters in Cincinnati, manufacture and sell more than half the caskets made and sold in this country.

R. K. SHALLENBERGER

Nationally known expert will personally demonstrate his method without charge at the Marriott Hotel, Harrisburg, Wednesday, March 10th, from 9 a. m. to 12 noon.

Mr. Shallenberger says the Shallenberger method contracts the openings in remarkably short time on the average case, regardless of the size or location of the rupture and no matter how much you lift or strain, and puts you back to work the same day as efficient as before you were ruptured.

The Shallenberger Rupture Shield has no leg strap; water proof, sanitary, practically indestructible and can be worn while bathing. Each shield is skillfully molded and fitted to the parts under heat, which gives a perfect fit and satisfaction.

Large and difficult ruptures following operations especially solicited.

Marratt went on. "I'd already seen your dog and I knew he wasn't a dog that would go to anybody that whistled. I'd tried. So I figured you'd been around Beck with's office and didn't want me to know you'd been there."

"That didn't tell you I was Usher."

"There were other things. Luke Usher was fast with a gun. You drew and fired at that hasp without hardly looking, showing that you knew more about it than any stranger. The second shot you missed deliberately, proving you'd seen the error of having hit it the first time and wanted me to think it was luck. You put your belongings in Jake's bedroom. You shouldn't have known which was Jake's and which was Luke's."

"How come you didn't slug me?"

"Same reason. I suppose, you haven't ventilated me. Wanted to see what you were up to."

Usher's lips pulled back in a twisted grin. "I wasn't being crowded like you are, Marratt."

In his chair Marratt's shape went uncomfortably still. "So you know who I am."

"I've seen the reward bills; they don't half do you justice, no idea of your coloring, your real personality. I was over in the barn the night Frailey brought you in. I took a squint after he left. You look more like Jake's son than I do. Did you kill Beckwith?"

"No," Marratt said. "Did you kill Jake?"

Usher shook his head, hating himself. "If I'd had any guts I'd have evened the score, though. I'd ridden into the yard, had just got off my horse when I heard the shot. I ran around the house. Dad was down on the ground, Ryerson standing over him with a smoking pistol. I saw Craffkin gettin' set to crack down on me. His eyes filled with an indescribable anguish. "I cut my stick-turned tail and bolted like a rabbit!"

"I've been tempted to bolt a few times myself—"

"But this wasn't your fight. Why should you stick your neck out?"

"It's more my fight than you'd be likely to guess. If you've seen the reward bills you know why they sent me to Yuma."

"I've wondered about that. Figured maybe you was framed—"

"No. I killed him. There were two of them... and a girl. Ryerson was Clagg's partner."

"So that was why you took up my quarrel—"

"No," Marratt said. "I'll not fool you. I didn't know when I stepped into your boots what his name was, or that I'd find him in this country. I broke jail to find him and I had to stay clear long enough to get a line on him. The guy in the Lone Star called me Luke; and then Frailey, making the same mistake, supplied a little of your background. I saw a chance to keep the law off my neck. Frailey introduced me to Naome and, while we were talking, Ryerson came up—"

"He wouldn't rest after that, not with you free to call him. Why didn't you drop him right then?"

"He didn't have a gun on him—"

"Neither did my Dad; though they said afterwards he had." Usher got up, tramping round the room restively. "Don't count me out of this. I'm through with running!"

Marratt gave him a searching scrutiny. "All right. You'll need to understand what's happening." He roughed it in for him.

Usher said grimly. "I didn't come back figurin' it was going to be easy. "You want to toss for Ryerson?"

"There's a chance," Marratt said. "he never killed old Jake—"

"He kept his mouth shut, didn't he?"

Marratt said with an air of discovering something: "That isn't quite the same."

Then, flushed and resentful of the embarrassment occasioned by Usher's sharp look, Marratt growled. "Not that I'm wanting to defend Ryerson, but fear can change a man's thinking and, for what it's worth, I'm bound to tell you Frailey doesn't believe Ryerson killed your father."

Usher said, gruffly. "I know what I saw—"

He broke off, reaching for his gun as, green eyes bleak, he jumped for the door.

With the tatters of night blackly piled in the hollows, Ryerson's range boss finally quit and called his crew off the hunt for Usher.

Nor was Craffkin's frame of mind at all improved when the Mexican left in the ravine turned up missing. And hard on the heels of this he made a further, more jolting discovery when a swift count of noses revealed that Ryerson, too, had hauled his freight.

"The old woman," said Gainer, elaborately yawning and stretching. "will be thinkin' I've run in a boghole. I reckon, Churk, I better be gettin' along home."

It was like a spark hitting powder the way Craffkin whirled on him, catching Gainer's shirtfront in a grip of steel. "You ain't wringin' out of my sight till I say so!"

"But what could I do?" Gainer quavered, his desperation close to panic.

"You can sit a horse, and you'll be sittin' on one today when we ride to settle accounts with that Paul Pry that calls himself Usher."

Search for Ex-Con Who Escapes While Wearing Handcuffs

DU QUOIN, Ill. (AP) — Police searched today for Roscoe Scott, 21-year-old ex-convict, who escaped wearing handcuffs after police stopped him for speeding here Sunday night.

Police Chief Vallie West said Scott was considered to be dangerous. Police chased the car until it overturned and handcuffed Scott in the police car while they pulled out a 16-year-old companion of Scott. While they freed the boy who was held in jail here, Scott escaped.

West said Scott was released Sunday from Menard State Penitentiary at Chester where he had been serving a three-year term for car theft.

Ruling Protects Witnesses of Congress Hearings

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Supreme Court ruled today that testimony given by a witness at congressional hearings may not be used against him in state courts.

The ruling was unanimous.

The case concerned the conviction of William Adams, a Baltimore numbers operator, on May 29, 1952, for conspiracy to violate Maryland's lottery laws. He drew a seven-year jail sentence and a $2,000 fine. Today's decision reversed the conviction.

The Daily Register, Harrisburg, Illinois

Monday, March 8, 1954 Page Five

Chief evidence used against Adams was testimony he gave in closed session to the now-defunct Senate Crime Investigating committee.

He claimed the federal immunity statute protected him against use of this testimony in a state court just as it does in federal trials.

Federal law long has forbidden use in federal courts of testimony previously given by a defendant at a congressional hearing. However, an accused person may be convicted through evidence to which the forbidden testimony provides the clue. This is the reason many witnesses refuse to answer questions on grounds of possible self-incrimination.

CRAGGS-DeVILLEZ

HARRISBURG, ILLINOIS

CRAGGS-DeVILLEZ

SULLIVAN, Ind. (AP) — Will H. Hays, who held a stop watch on Valentino's kisses and a tight rein on movie morals, died Sunday in the Hoosier town where he was born.

The former movie "czar" was 74. Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 4 p. m. in the First Presbyterian Church here, where Hays was an elder.

Hays was the first president of the Motion Picture Producers and Distributors of America, a job that gave him the power to censor 30 per cent of all American-made movies. He held the position from 1922 to 1943.

Like Kenesaw Mountain Landis, late major league baseball commissioner, Hays was a genuine "Czar," able to hold the men who paid his $150,000 salary in line. The impact of his personality was such that the association he headed was popularly known as the "Hays office."

Former GOP National Chairman Hays, like Federal Judge Landis, came to his job from an honored position in government. Hays was Republican national chairman in the closing days of World War I, helped elect Warren G. Harding President in 1920 and was made postmaster general in Harding's administration.

He resigned to take the Hollywood job after a year in Harding's Cabinet.

Hays' wife and son, Will H. Hays Jr., a Wabash College professor, were at his side when he died. He was stricken with pneumonia in November, 1953, and grew weaker steadily. A week ago organic complications set in.

Hays came to Hollywood when the young film industry was in trouble with reform elements across the country. There was public criticism of lengthy kisses, scanty clothing and other manifestations of the "flapper" age.

Personal Standards

Much of it might seem tame now, but at the time most states were moving to set up censorship boards—which would have tied up Hollywood with 48 different sets of rules.

Hays convinced the producers it would be easier, and more profitable, to regulate themselves. One of the first things he did was cut kisses to what he considered reasonable lengths.

The czar was hard on bedroom and bathtub scenes, too.

Hays wasn't just playing to the crowd. He had definite personal standards on morality.

He was responsible for the "morality clause" in actors' contracts, a clause which gave studios the right to fire an actor involved in a scandal.

Nathaniel Bowditch's "The American Practical Navigator" is known as the "Seaman's Bible."

CORRECTION

In the advertisement in The Daily Register last Thursday, March 4, regarding the proposals for additions to the Harrisburg City water system, one item was listed incorrectly by The Daily Register.

The item read:

"Spillway, 260 cubic yards at $65.00 per 100 yards---$16,900."

There was no explanation as to what the 100 yards was composed of. It was confused with a previous item in the advertisement regarding the moving of dirt for the dam at a given cost per 100 yards.

The correct item, as it appears on the engineer's estimate should read:

"Spillway, 260 cubic yards of CONCRETE at $65.00 PER YARD---$16,900."

New Favorites for State Basketball Championship with La Grange Bealen

SPRINGFIELD — With La Grange sidelined, sports fans cast about today for a new favorite to win the 1954 Illinois prep basketball crown—and there were plenty of candidates.

Opening of the 15 sectional tournaments Wednesday will find at least a dozen strong contenders for the favorite role vacated when La Grange lost to Cicero Morton Friday at Riverside.

Pinckneyville's Panthers, ranked No. 2 team behind La Grange in the final United Press ratings, are drawing a big share of the attention. The Panthers have two losses in 30 games.

Coach Duster Thomas' Pinckneyville quintet will launch its bid for sectional honors at West Frankfort against Benton (20-9). In the second game, it's Centralia (24-6) vs. Marion (19-10).

Pinckneyville will rank the favorite but any one of the other three could prove tough. Centralia owns one of the two victories scored over the Panthers this season, by a 51-46 margin.

Quincy's Blue Devils could go a long way, too. Quincy (23-2) faces Griggsville (18-6) at Jacksonville. The other game pits Astoria (18-6) against Jacksonville (20-4), with the hosts favored to win and tackle Quincy for a "Sweet Sixteen" berth.

One of the hottest sectional fights looms at Harrisburg, where Mt. Vernon (23-3) and Mount Carmel (24-3) shape up as top contenders.

Mount Vernon, rated No. 3 downstate team, takes on Metropolis (17-11) and Mount Carmel meets district winner Mounds Douglass (17-6) in first round games. Mount Carmel's chief weapon is towering Archie Dees, who tallied 42 points against Grayville Friday night.

Peoria Central (21-5), which finished second in the state finals last spring, will open its sectional activity against Lexington (19-10) at Peoria Spalding. Pekin's Chinks (16-10) clash with Peoria Manual (12-12) for the right to meet the Central-Lexington winner.

Decatur is Threat to Litchfield
Cicero Morton (20-2), conqueror of La Grange, and Harvey Thornton (21-6) figure to be the strongest teams in the Aurora sectional. Morton is paired against Kankakee St. Patrick's (15-9) and Harvey against Aurora East (15-11) in openers.

On paper, the best sectional field is at Olney, where the four contenders have a combined record of 101 wins and 15 losses.

Little Cumberland (28-2) goes against Paris (28-3) in the curtain raiser. The two have split in two previous meetings. It's Steward versus Strasburg (27-3) vs. Lawrenceville (18-7) in the second game.

Litchfield (26-4) has beaten two of the other three teams assigned to the Vandalia sectional — Vandalia (13-14) and Taylorville (13-13), which is Litchfield's opening foe. Decatur (19-7), clashing with Vandalia in the first round, could prove a strong threat.

Barrington, beaten but once in 26 games, should oust Crystal Lake (23-5) in the first game at Arlington Heights. Barrington stopped Crystal Lake cold in two previous engagements. Evanston (19-2) vies with Maywood Proviso (14-7) in the second match.

Edwardsville Favored
Edwardsville (24-5), rated No. 6 by the U. P. Board of Coaches, looks like a heavy favorite to beat Greenville (12-12) at Wood River, and then face tougher Jerseyville (24-4) or East St. Louis (20-6) in the sectional title game.

Champaign will seek its 21st "trip" to the state finals in the Champaign sectional. Rantoul (25-3) opens against Danville (19-8) and Champaign (16-9) meets Hoopeston (16-12).

Bowen (28-2), a district champ, launches the Macomb sectional against Joy (21-7), followed by Galesburg Corpus Christi (18-8) against Monmouth's Zippers (18-8).

Princeton (26-3), matched against Pontiac (17-11), and Ottawa (24-5), which meets Wenona (20-8) rate as favorites at La Salle-Peru. Princeton whipped Ottawa by 20 points two weeks ago. Rockford East (21-2), rated No. 5 by the U. P. coaches, is odds-on favorite at Rockford. The Rabs play Freeport (4-20) and De Kalb's Barbs (19-7) collide with Rochelle in the first round.

At Sterling, Moline (21-5) should eliminate Fulton and fight for the title with Kewanee (11-17) or Sterling (11-14).

Springfield (8-18) meets Bloomfield Trinity (26-4) and Lincoln (18-7) plays Mason City (18-9) in Springfield sectional openers.

Braves Hurlers Beat Dodgers On Two-Hitter

Grimm Comments His Staff May Be 'Second to None'

By United Press
It's only spring training, but you can't sell the idea Milwaukee pitcher, who kept buzzing that baseball in mid-season style.

Only a pair of scratch hits in the ninth inning prevented Lew Burdette, Jim Wilson and Ernie Johnson from hurling a combined no-hitter Sunday as the Braves captured their second straight game from the Dodgers, 9-2, at Miami, Fla.

That pitching performance, coming on the heels of Milwaukee's 3-2 triumph over Brooklyn on Saturday, caused Manager Charlie Grimm of the Braves to comment that his team's mound staff might be "second to none" this season.

There was no shortage of base hits at Phoenix, Ariz., however, where Cleveland hammered out 20 safeties in burying the Giants, 23-10. Outfielder Dave Pope paced the Indian assault with a pair of homers off Knuckleballer Hoyt Wilhelm while Rocky Nelson, Jim Lemon and Owen Ferrell also homered for the Yankees.

Red Sox Win, 2-1
A two-run homer by Dick Kokos in the 10th inning gave the Baltimore Orioles an 8-6 victory over the Chicago Cubs. Bob Turley of the Orioles distinguished himself by striking out seven batters in the three innings he worked.

Billy Conso, the $65,000 bonus boy, tripled in the eighth inning to drive in Karl Olson with the winning run as the Red Sox nipped the Phillies, 2-1, at Sarasota, Fla. Following the game, Ted Williams left the Red Sox camp for Boston where he will receive treatment for his broken collarbone.

The day wasn't a complete loss for the Phillies, however. Their "B" squad beat Cincinnati's "B" team, 8-2, at Clearwater, Fla., with winning pitcher Duke Markell limiting the Redlegs to one run in the first five innings.

Vic Power, obtained from the Yankees during the winter, smashed a three-run homer and also collected a single in leading the Athletics to a 7-3 conquest over the Senators at Orlando, Fla. Gus Zernial also homered for Philadelphia in a six-run third inning.

Yankees Beat Cardinals
Former Cincinnati outfielder Willard Marshall also hammered a three-run homer to help the White Sox beat the Redlegs' "A" squad,

Indiana Wins Title; To Begin Play in NCAA

Hoosiers Defeat Illinois, 67-64, to Prevent 3-Way Tie

CHICAGO — Indiana Coach Branch McCracken said today his Big Ten basketball champions have a "good chance" to keep their NCAA crown.

The Hoosiers, who won their second undisputed conference title in history Saturday by whipping Illinois, 67-64, took a few days off before starting their race for the NCAA title.

Friday the McCracken five will begin NCAA tourney play at Iowa City, Iowa, against the winner of Tuesday night's Fort Wayne, Ind. game between Notre Dame and Loyola of the South.

McCracken had hoped the Illinois game "wouldn't be that close, but then again I knew it would be a tough game."

Though under Big Ten rules its champion may schedule a warmup game prior to the NCAA tourney, McCracken said he didn't expect to take advantage of the opportunity.

Score 33 Free Throws
"There'll be only six days between our last regular game and the tourney game," he said. The Hoosiers, idle for a week before their finale against the Illinois, won their second title in a row by free throw proficiency, netting 33 to 18 for Illinois. Indiana shot only 274 from the field and Illinois 325.

However, the Hoosiers' scoring star, Don Schlundt, caged 25 points to set a new Big Ten scoring record with an average per game of 27.1 points, compared to the old mark of 26 points set by Iowa's Chuck Darling two years ago.

Schlundt, the defending scoring champion with a total of 459 points in 18 games a year ago, had 379 markers in 14 games this year. Indiana's win prevented a blind draw slated in the Big Ten office Sunday which would have selected the Big Ten tourney representative. Had Illinois won over Indiana, both teams, as well as Iowa, would have tied for the league title.

Kerr Scores 20 Points
Illinois grabbed an early lead over the Hoosiers, but sagged in the second period as Indiana moved to a 42-34 halftime edge. Then, though Indiana took a 13-point lead in the third period, Illinois came back for a 62-60 lead in the final period.

Bob Leonard settled the game after it was tied, 62-62, dropping four free throws in the last minute to give Indiana the decision.

John Kerr of Illinois netted 20 points to finish second in the scoring race with a 25.9 average, while Minnesota's Dick Garmaker, who dropped 34 points against Wisconsin Saturday, was third with a 24.6 margin.

Minnesota dropped Wisconsin, 78-73, in an overtime to close the season tied with Illinois for third place with 10 wins and 4 losses. Iowa was second with an 11-3 mark compared to Indiana's 12-2.

Michigan State whipped Michigan, 76-61, in the final game.

8-3, at Tampa. The Chicago victory was tempered by the fact that catcher Sherm Lollar suffered a split index finger on his right hand during the fourth inning. X-rays will be taken of the injury today.

Home runs by Bob Cerv, Andy Carey and Gerry Coleman were the key blows in the Yankees' 10-7 victory over the Cardinals at St. Petersburg, Fla. The Yankees rapped loser Tom Poholsky for four runs in the second inning. Rookie Bob Grim went four innings and was the winner.

Pittsburgh got off on the right foot by scoring five runs off Al Aber in the second inning and then going on to defeat Detroit, 7-3. Rookie Ron Neccai yielded one run in the four innings he worked and gained the victory. George Freese led the Pirate attack with three hits.

NCAA Play Begins Tonight With Doubleheader; NIT Continues at The Garden

NEW YORK — Play in both opening NIT card, ousting Wichita, the NCAA and National Invitation 88-84. St. Francis of Brooklyn protrouments, plus the possible vided the other with a 60-55 decrowning of as many as three sion over Louisville that qualified league champions highlights a it for a quarter-final meeting Tues- night of wild action on the college basketball court tonight.

The NCAA post-season carnival gets underway tonight with a doubleheader at Buffalo, N. Y., and a single game at Durham, N. C., while the NIT continues at Madison Square Garden with a tripleheader.

At Buffalo's Memorial Auditorium, opening-round NCAA games match Connecticut (23-2) against Navy (16-7) and La Salle (21-4) against Fordham (18-5). The winners of these games qualify for the regional tourney at Philadelphia next weekend.

At Durham, N. C., North Carolina State and George Washington clash for the right to enter the same Philadelphia regional. State qualified for this game by winning the Atlantic Coast Conference tournament on Saturday night with a dramatic, 82-80 victory over Wake Forest in overtime at Raleigh, N. C. George Washington, which went unbeaten in Southern Conference play, kept right on going by taking the league's post-season tourney with an 83-70 victory over Richmond in the final round at Morgantown, W. Va.

Two Upsets in NIT Play
The National Invitation, which opened with a tripleheader of first round games among unseeded teams on Saturday, will complete the first round in its opening game on tonight's program. Brigham Young (18-10) vs. St. Francis of Loretto, Pa. (20-4).

Then the seeded teams will appear for the first time with second-seeded Western Kentucky (28-1) playing Bowling Green of Ohio (17-6) in one quarter-final game and fourth-seeded Niagara (21-5) playing Dayton (25-6).

Bowling Green sprang one of the two surprises that marked the Illinois wins. The Big Red won its 15th conference indoor track championship, which failed in its bid for the Big Ten basketball and football crowns, took consolation today in its 15th conference indoor track championship.

The Illini completely dominated the field Saturday as all but three of their 16-man squad scored points in the 44th annual meet. They finished with 55 points to win the championship for the fourth straight year.

Indiana was runnerup with 42½, followed by Michigan with 42½, Purdue 21½, Michigan State 19½, Iowa 16½, Ohio State 12, Northwestern 11, Wisconsin 8½ and Minnesota 2½.

Illinois notched six individual championships and would have scored a seventh if Gene Maynard hadn't disqualified himself by leaving his lane too soon while on his way to winning the half mile event. Maynard's lapse also cost him honors as high point man in the meet and the only double winner, since he had already won the 1,000-yard run. Instead, scoring honors went to his teammate, sophomore Abe Woodson, who earned 9 points with a victory in the 70-yard low hurdles and a second in the highs.

Three defending champions kept their titles—Willie Williams of Illinois in the 60-yard dash, Fritz Nilsson of Michigan in the shot put, and John Ross of Michigan in the mile run. Bob Ehrhart of Northwestern, last year's pole vault co-champion, won undisputed possession this year.

Two records were set—by Ron Mitchell of Illinois as he hit jumped 6 feet 7½ inches, and by Indiana's mile relay team with a time of 3:17.6.

NAIA Tourney Opens Today
KANSAS CITY, Mo. — Whitworth of Spokane, Wash., met Nebraska Wesleyan of Lincoln today as 32 basketball teams from 30 states began a week of competition for the 1954 NAIA title.

Southwest Missouri, winner of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics basketball tournament for the past two years, was here to defend its crown.

But Rio Grande of Ohio and its Bevo Francis promised to be the biggest crowd pleaser. The fabulous Francis already has scored 1,100 points in 22 games this season.

Both Southwest Missouri and Rio Grande were scheduled for opening-day tests.

These two teams were among the eight top-seeded at today's noon EST opening of the 1954 NAIA tourney.

Others were East Carolina of Greenville, S. C.; East Tex. State of Commerce, Geneva, Tex.; Beaver Falls, Pa.; Lawrence Tech of Detroit; St. Peter's of Jersey City, N. J., and Pasadena, Calif., College.

Today's schedule in the week-long tournament called for more than 12 hours of basketball in eight games.

New Edition of 'Who's Who In America' Lists 48,716 Biographical Sketches

CHICAGO (AP)—Three of every ten Americans will find their names listed today in the new "Who's Who in America," which every two years counts the noses of the nation's prominent.

The 1954-55 edition of the big red volume contains 48,716 biographical sketches, an increase of 4,102 over the last edition published two years ago.

But the ratio of notables to the nation's population, three in 10,000, is the same as it was when the first "Who's Who" was published in 1898. That first edition listed 8,602 prominent persons, including "Buffalo Bill" Cody and Lillian Russell.

Minister is Oldest

Fifty-two persons listed in the first "Who's Who" are alive today and appear in the current edition. The oldest is the Rev. George Summey, 101, New Orleans, La., founder of the Presbyterian Quarterly. The oldest include Publisher Bernarr MacFadden, 85, and beauty expert Edna Wallace Hopper.

Not all of the elite are happy about their biographical sketches. Mary Garden, the former opera star, complained that the book lists her birthdate as Feb. 20, 1877, which would make her 77. She insists she is 70, but the editors claim otherwise.

Former President Harry S. Truman wrote the editors that he should be listed as the 32nd President, not the 33rd. The dispute revolves about the fact that Grover Cleveland served two non-current terms.

Publisher Wheeler Sammons said Mr. Truman's letter arrived too late, but that a correction will be made in the next edition.

The most famous three brothers listed in the book are the Eisenhowers—the President, his brother Milton, president of Pennsylvania State University, and Arthur, executive vice president of the Commerce Trust Co., Kansas City.

New Names Added

A famous two-brother team is the Comptons, Arthur, Nobel prize-winning physicist, and Karl, physicist and chairman of Massachusetts Institute of Technology.

Newcomers to "Who's Who" are two recent Nobel prize winners, Dr. Max Theiler in physiology and medicine and Dr. Hans Krebs in medicine.

The legitimate theater contributes such new names as Julie Harris and Lillie Palmer. The movies are represented by "Oscar" winner Kim Hunter and Elizabeth Taylor.

Other new names from the entertainment field are Ed Sullivan, Ted Mack, singers Peggy Lee and Rosemary Clooney, Jinx Falkenberg, Desi Arnaz, Eve Arden and William Boyd, known to children as "Hop-along Cassidy."

Radio-TV commentators include Richard Harkness, Paul Gibson and

Russians Defeat Canadians for Amateur Ice Hockey Championship

STOCKHOLM, Sweden (AP)—Russia, which has boasted she will score heavily in the 1956 winter Olympics, climaxed a brilliant showing in 1954 "snow and ice" competition by defeating the Canadians, acknowledged masters of the sport, for the world amateur ice hockey championship.

The Russians produced a major sports upset Sunday night by defeating Canada, 7-2, in the title game. Russia finished its first appearance in the tournament with a 6-0-1 record against Canada's 6-1 mark.

Dave Garroway. From music come composers Paul Lavalie, Paul Creston and Gail Kubik.

Actress Marilyn Monroe and her new husband, Joe DiMaggio, who probably are better known to the masses than most of the persons listed in "Who's Who," didn't make it.

Cairo Man Asks More Funds for Flood Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—Representatives of the Mississippi River Flood Control Assn. asked today for an 11-million-dollar increase in lower valley flood control funds for the coming fiscal year.

The Eisenhower budget recommends $45,200,000 for work on the lower Mississippi and its tributaries.

Peyton Berbling of Cairo, Ill., of the association legislative committee, told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee "the sum of $56,885,000 is the minimum amount necessary for the fiscal year 1955" and even that "is well under appropriations for this work in recent years."

Berbling said the overall Mississippi flood control project is only 76 per cent complete after more than a quarter century of work.

"This delay and failure to complete this great work is because the Congress has failed, year after year, to allocate and appropriate enough money to accomplish full progress," he said.

Berbling said the recommended appropriation of $853,000 for main stem levees would build up only 12 miles and "at that rate it will take 24 more years to complete the protection."

He said the association believes the fund should be raised to three million dollars, enough to complete 41 miles of levee.

Shot by Stepfather Upon Complaint Dinner Roast was Too Tough

CHICAGO (AP)—Robert Betzold, 23, was in critical condition today as the result of a gunshot wound inflicted by his stepfather when the younger man complained his Sunday dinner roast beef was too tough.

Police said Mrs. Alva Weber and her son by a previous marriage quarreled constantly and the ill feeling erupted when Betzold complained his meat was too tough. Mrs. Weber said her husband, Alva, 73, became enraged, rushed upstairs, returned with a gun and fired point blank at Betzold.
